

The Voice-Tribune has been the Louisville area's premier community newspaper for more than 60 years.

With content that focuses on local events, people, business and sports, Voice readers are assured weekly updates about their community. Originally a St. Matthews-only paper, The Voice now covers several other suburban cities such as Lyndon and Jeffersontown, as well as East End communities in the Louisville Metro area, including Middletown, Prospect, Hurstbourne, Anchorage and Hikes Point. Our subscribers are in most Kentucky zip codes, and throughout the United States.
